Introduction to Internet Computing

For this project, I used only one editor for my work. I adopted Brackets because I've used it before for a little while and had a little bit of familiarity with it.

I tested my webpage on Google Chrome and Microsoft Edge. Both seemed similar besides the title font-family but that didn't really matter to me because both looked nice.

There were a couple time consuming parts about my project. One was getting the pictures and text to be on the same Y axis. Another one was figuring out how to submit the project properly. There's a bit of confusion and it took me a while to figure out what goes where.
